DISTRICT COURT OF GUAM TERRITORY OF GUAM

JACOB CRUZ,

Plaintiff,

vs.

GREGORIO SALAS CALVO, et. al.,

Defendants.

Civil Case No. 06-00031

ORDER

13 This matter comes before the court because plaintiff, Jacob Cruz, (“Cruz”) proceeding pro
14 se, has filed an amended complaint in the above-captioned matter pursuant to this court’s Order
15 of December 28, 2006 (“Order”). See Docket No. 20. Initially, Cruz filed a pro se complaint 16 alleging violations of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, § 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 as 17 amended through 1998 (“RA”) and the Americans with Disabilities Act (“ADA”), contending that 18 he was denied services due to discrimination as a result of his disabilities. See Docket Nos. 1 & 19 6. Defendants filed a motion to dismiss pursuant to FED. R. CIV. P. 12 (b)(6). A hearing was held 20 on the matter, after which the court issued its decision in the written order of December 28, 2006.

21 In it’s order the court allowed Cruz to amend his complaint to add additional facts to 22 support his claims and to allege “intentional discrimination” and “deliberate indifference”
23 regarding his claims for compensatory damages. Order at 6-7. The court expressly cautioned Cruz 24 that “absent an amendment conforming with this court’s order, ALL causes of action as to 25 Defendants will be dismissed.” In addition to providing specific information about what the 26 amendments should entail, the court also provided guidance and the following warnings:

- 27 1. [t]he Amended Complaint must be retyped or rewritten in its 28 entirety and may not incorporate any part of the original Complaint (or supporting documentation) by reference . . .

- 1 2. [i]f Cruz wishes to include the information previously 2 submitted in the original complaint or the supporting 3 documents submitted via letter (Docket No. 6) he must 4 retype them into his amended complaint or attach the 5 supporting documents to the Amended Complaint . . .
- 6 3. Cruz should take notice that all causes of action alleged in 7 a complaint which are not alleged in an amended complaint
8 are waived. (citations omitted).

9 Order at 8.

10 The court has reviewed Cruz's amended complaint and finds that the complaint is defective 11 pursuant to G.R. 5.1, LR 10.1 of the Local Rules of the District Court of Guam and Rules 8(a) and 12 10 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.¹ A federal court may dismiss a complaint sua sponte
13 if jurisdiction is lacking. Southern Pacific Transportation Co. v. City of Los Angeles, 922 F.2d 14 498, 502 (9th Cir.1990), cert. denied, 112 S.Ct. 382 (1991); FED.R.CIV.P. 12(h)(3).² Despite this 15 court's warnings regarding the requirements for filing his amended complaint, Cruz failed to re-16 allege any of the facts in his initial complaint. Instead it appears that Cruz has chosen to try to 17 supplement his initial complaint. This is not proper. Even upon a liberal review of Cruz's filings, 18 the court can not find any legal or factual basis supporting his claims as they are stated in the 19 amended complaint. The amended complaint utterly fails to state a cognizable claim for relief and 20 is not in compliance with this court's Order of December 28, 2006.

21 Cruz was advised that failure "to comply with every provision" of the Order would result 22 in a dismissal pursuant to Rule 41(b) FED.R.CIV.P. However, in light of the fact that Cruz did 23 previously plead sufficient facts with respect to the majority of his claims and that he is proceeding
24 pro se, this court will allow Cruz a final opportunity to once again amend his complaint to conform 25 with the court's previous Order. Cruz shall submit a Second Amended Complaint by March 12,

26 ¹ FED.R.CIV.P 8(a) states in pertinent part:

27 A pleading which sets forth a claim for relief . . . shall contain (1) a short and 28 plain statement of the grounds upon which the court's jurisdiction depends, unless the court already has jurisdiction to support it, (2) a short and plain statement of the claim showing that the pleader is entitled to relief, and (3) a demand for judgment for the relief the pleader seeks

² FED.R.CIV.P. 12(h)(3) states: "[w]henver it appears by suggestion of the parties or otherwise that the court lacks jurisdiction of the subject matter, the court shall dismiss the action."

1 2007. Absent an amendment conforming with this court's order, ALL causes of action as to 2 Defendants will be dismissed.

3 The Second Amended Complaint must be retyped or rewritten in its entirety and may not 4 incorporate any part of the two previous complaints (or supporting documentation) by reference.
5 If Cruz wishes to include the information previously submitted in the original complaints or 6 the supporting documents submitted via letter (Docket No. 6) he must retype them into his 7 amended complaint or attach the supporting documents to the amended Complaint. Any 8 amended complaint submitted by Cruz should be clearly designated as the Second Amended 9 Complaint on the face of the document. Cruz is advised to pay close attention to the Local and 10 Federal Rules regarding the form, content and formatting of his document.² Again, Cruz should 11 take notice that all causes of action alleged in a complaint which are not alleged in an 12 amended complaint are waived. Hal Roach Studios v. Richard Feiner & Co., 896 F.2d 1542, 13 1546 (9th Cir. 1990).

14 WARNING OF POSSIBLE DISMISSAL

15 Cruz should take notice that if he fails to timely comply with every provision of this Order, 16 or any order entered in this matter, the court will consider dismissing the matter pursuant to Rule
17 41(b) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. See Ferdik v. Bonzelet, 963 F.2d 1258, 1260-61 (9th 18 Cir.)(district court may dismiss action for failure to comply with any order of the court), cert.
19 denied, 506 U.S. 915 (1992).

20 SO ORDERED this 2nd day of March, 2007.
